Founded in 1970, the Lombardi Cancer Center is a major component of Georgetown University Medical Center, which includes Georgetown University Hospital, the School of Medicine, and the School of Nursing and Health Studies. It is one of only 40 comprehensive cancers centers designated by the National Cancer Institute. The Lombardi Center seeks to improve the diagnosis, treatment, and prevention of cancer through innovative basic and clinical research, patient care, community education and outreach, and the training of cancer specialists for the future.
